

The Version 11 looks the same as the V10, physically, but is equipped with several improvements, including Express Mode operation from the trailer-mounted control box (insert).

What are the benefits of the Version 11 SMART2™ vs. V10?

The V10 SMART2™ stores more information and provides more advanced motor protection than any other wireless remote on the market. With the introduction of Version 11, even more features are available.

Version 11 of our SMART2™ is now shipped with main menu control enabled for easier operation of devices from the main screen. The remote defaults to Express Mode for the tarp system, but only if travel stops are set. Other changes include:

- Added screen options. Adjust the time before the remote automatically shuts off. Previously three minutes, this can now be set for two, three, five, 10, 15 or 20 minutes. Or adjust how long before the backlight shuts off. Previously 30 seconds, this can now be set for 15 or 30 seconds or one, two, three or five minutes. Adjusting this time will affect battery life.
- Improved performance/response. Lets you quickly lock on to your device/function and makes the screen populate faster. Faster response in Main Menu Mode.
- Improved battery life. A plus for users who allow remote to periodically "time out."
- Operator notification. During setting of stops on the SMART2[™], the operator will be notified if an encoder wire is not connected.
- Improved options. Like the more intuitive, quicker way to delete travel stops.

On 4500 Series HD systems operating with V11 SMART2™ remotes, the trailer-mounted control boxes operate in Express Mode. Control boxes have a bright yellow decal on the front saying "SMART EXPRESS." Pressing the "O" or "C" button initiates an Express open or close operation. After that, pressing any button on the box stops tarp operation, or it stops automatically at end of travel. If travel stops are not set, the trailer-mounted control box operates in Manual Mode.
